Supporting Authentic, Inclusive
Postsecondary Education

April 22, 2019

Volume 2 , Number 16

As you are all in the midst of winding down another semester in our respective colleges and universities – signing papers, grading assignments, assigning grades – and all the other minutia that you must consider, may you find the quietness within to pause and reflect on the lives that you are touching each day. Roy Lessin is quoted as having said, “Things are temporary, relationships last forever. Nothing can replace the time we spend investing in the life of another.” This quote embodies the movement of inclusive postsecondary education that we all embrace. Each one of us is investing in the lives of those whom we believe deserve every opportunity to have college experiences just like their peers. For those that have programs at any stage of development, thank you for your investment! For those members of our Consortium who are considering the development of a program in the coming year, please know the investment is worth it! Please contact our office to learn how we can support your efforts.
