Supporting Authentic, Inclusive
Postsecondary Education

December 20, 2019

Volume 3 , Number 8

During these last few weeks of December , it has been a privilege to share in the excitement and enthusiasm that many of you are experiencing in the development of new programs.

From Butler County Community College, Robert Morris University, and University of Pittsburgh to Lock Haven University and Misericordia University—all areas of our state are bubbling with the momentum needed to build fully inclusive college experiences for young adults with intellectual disability.

It is certain that the year 2020 is full of great promise and new opportunities for all.

I am looking forward to assisting you and experiencing this journey with you.

Ann Marie Licata, Ph.D., Director

Wishing Everyone A Joyous Holiday Season And A Peaceful New Year!
